Responsibilities of the Green Group Cell

Responsibility	Description
Promote Environmental Education	Conduct workshops, seminars, and campaigns to educate students and staff about environmental sustainability and conservation practices.
Waste Management	Implement programs to reduce, reuse, and recycle waste within the institution. This can include setting up recycling bins, composting, and waste segregation.
Energy Conservation	Organize campaigns and activities to reduce energy consumption, including turning off lights and electrical devices when not in use, and promoting the use of energy-efficient appliances.
Water Conservation	Introduce measures for water saving, like rainwater harvesting systems, water-efficient fixtures, and awareness drives about water conservation.
Green Campus Initiatives	Create and maintain green spaces, gardens, and plant trees on campus. Introduce measures like solar panels or eco-friendly infrastructure.
Environmental Audits	Conduct regular audits of the institution's environmental impact, including energy use, water consumption, waste production, and resource usage.
Environmental Clubs and Events	Organize events such as tree plantations, eco-friendly fairs, or community cleanup programs to encourage active student participation.
Sustainability Practices in Operations	Ensure the institution adopts green practices in its operations such as using eco-friendly products, reducing paper waste, and supporting sustainable suppliers.
Collaboration with NGOs and Local Bodies	Work in partnership with environmental organizations, local government bodies, and community leaders to implement larger-scale environmental projects and initiatives.

Campaigns and Advocacy	Lead environmental campaigns to raise awareness about global environmental issues such as climate change, plastic pollution, and biodiversity loss.
